ZP by-poll for Hebballi on Nov 20

Victory must for BJP to retain power in Dharwad Zilla Panchayat

Srinidhi R

DHARWAD: The State Election Commission has issued notification for the by-election for Hebballi constituency in Dharwad Zilla Panchayat and the polling date, if necessary, would be on November 20.

The by-election has been necessitated following the death of sitting BJP member Yogeshgouda Goudar, who was brutally murdered at his gym in Dharwad on June 16 this year.

As per the calendar of events issued by the State Election Commission, the filing of nomination would begin on November 7.

The last date for filing the papers is November 10, and on November 11, the papers will be scrutinised. November 14 is the last date for withdrawal of papers. The election, if necessary, will be held on November 20 from 7:00 am to 5:00 pm. Re-polling, if necessary, will be on November 22, and counting of votes will be taken up on November 23.

BJP power

The by-election assumes significance because the BJP continuing in power in the Zilla Panchayat depends on the outcome of this poll.

Prior to the killing of Yogesh Goudar, the BJP had 11 seats in the 22-member House, while the Congress had 10. One seat is held by an independent Shivanand Karigar. After the death of Yogesh Goudar, the tally has come to 10-10 for both BJP and Congress.

The Congress which is ruling the State was very keen on wresting the power in the Zilla Panchayat from the BJP, but was lacking in number by a whisker.

It had tried to win the support of the independent candidate but that would not have assured the Congress of a victory. The fate is to be decided by tossing the coin as the score would have been 11-11.

Shivanand Karigar who had sought the post of vice-president had decided to support BJP and eventually got what he wanted.

Now with score tied at 10-10, a victory for Congress may help the party to capture power by wooing Mr Karigar and promising to continue him in the post of vice-president. If the voters decide to send a BJP candidate to the ZP, the BJP will continue to rule.

The by-election has become a prestige issue for both District In-charge Minister Vinay Kulkarni and BJP MP Prahlad Joshi and both will put in their best to win the seat.

Hectic lobbying

Hectic lobbying is on for the BJP ticket.

The party is keen to retain the seat and power in the Zilla Panchayat. Four candidates - Mallamma Goudar, widow of Yogesh Goudar, Sahadev Haveri, Rudrappa Hosur and Gurnathgouda, brother of Yogesh Goudar-are vying for the BJP ticket. In all, 14 candidates have submitted applications seeking the BJP ticket.

The BJP leadership is weighing the pros and cons of fielding Mallamma as it is not sure of getting the sympathy votes in favour of Mallamma. Yogesh Goudar had joined the BJP just before the ZP polls and had got elected using his personal clout against a formidable Basavaraj Ronad of Congress.

Yogesh Goudar also had the dubious distinction of being jailed during the election for allegedly assaulting a policeman.

The Congress in all probability will field Ronad of Hebballi again though Channabasappa Matti is also a strong contender.

Last elections, the Janata Dal (S) had fielded Gangadhar Patilkulkarni who was formerly a BJP man. It is to be seen whether the JD(S) will enter the fray this time or no.

‘IT skills pre-requisite for budding engineers’

DHARWAD: In this technology-driven era, it is very important for the aspiring engineering students and budding engineers to develop IT skills, stated Mindcraft Technologies Chairman Hemant Nerurkar.

He noted this while speaking after inaugurating the 'IT Jnanotsava' organised by the Department of Information Science and Engineering at SDMCET in Dharwad.

Addressing the students regarding the employment opportunities, he said: "Approach, attitude, leadership, communication, and interview skills are much more important than academics. Every individual has different ability and attitude which should be demonstrated at the time of interview".

He advised the students to stay confident when they attend the placement activities, and also not to get disheartened when they fail, but rather to take it with right spirit.

Prof V K Parvati explaining the objectives of this event in which eight different expertise will be providing knowledge about different IT skills, also mentioned that the knowledge that the students acquire in the college forms the foundation for their upcoming technical career; in addition to which, acquisition of technical and extra-curricular skills is also important.

Presiding over the inaugural session, Jeevandhar Kumar focused on the importance of IT and Entrepreneur Skills for the Engineers. "Make a career in something that you admire than the one which reaps money. Don't switch your jobs just for the sake of money. Try to get what you like or start liking what you have got".

SDMCET Principal S B Vanakudre spoke on the differences between the requirements and availability of technical skills among engineers.

The Karnataka boys' team which defeated Puducherry to lift the Atya-Patya national-level junior tournament which concluded in Dharwad on Sunday.

National junior Atya-Patya tournament

Karnataka boys retain champions title

State Girls' team stand third

DHARWAD: Continuing their strong hold in all the previous matches, the Karnataka boys clinched the cliff-hanger in the finals of the national junior Atya-Patya tournament which concluded in Dharwad on Sunday.

By clinching this title, the Karnataka boys created a new history of bagging the championship title for the second successive time.

The 29th national junior Atya-Patya tournament saw a participation of over 30 teams and 350 players from across the country. This tournament was conducted in the University of Public School grounds near SBI main branch in Dharwad.

In the finals between Karnataka and Puducherry, the host team defeated Puducherry boys 15-14 and 14-12 to lift the trophy.

H K Patil bats for estb of Edu University

HUBBALLI:Rural Development & Panchayat Raj Minister H K Patil has said that there is a need to establish an 'University of Education' in State.

This matter would soon be brought to the notice of Higher Education Minister Basavaraj Rayreddi, he added.

He noted this while speaking at the valedictory of the Akhila Bharathiya Swakulasali Samaj (weavers' community) 13th council meet held at Gokul Garden in Hubballi on Sunday.

Mr Patil said, in the last five years, several varsities on engineering, medical, women, folklore, dental, agriculture, and horticulture have come up in the State.

However, no university has been established elsewhere on education which is a base for all these varsities. Hence, there is a need to establish an University of Education, he added.

Farmers issues

The minister said, today, the condition of farmers and weavers in the State is in doldrums and hence, there is rise in suicide incidents too.

It is unfortunate that even after six-and-a-half decade of independence, there is no improvement in the living condition of weavers and farmers. These are the two most important sectors which generate huge employment, but they are no longer profitable ventures. Handlooms are on verge of extinction. The need of the hour is to ensure that both weavers and farmers get scientific price for their produce, said Mr Patil.

He asked the community leaders to take a delegation to Bengaluru and bring their problems to the notice of the chief minister.

Akhila Bharathiya Swakulasali Samaj General Secretary Mohan Ekbote said, the condition of weavers is turning from bad to worse, and now they are being considered as poorest of the poor. Weaving is no longer an occupation. To uphold the interests of the weavers, there is a need to rejuvenate the sector by the government. To set up an educational institute for weavers children, the government should sanction five acre land, he demanded.

Samaj Vice-President Parashuram Chilal, Devappa Divate, President Chandrakanth Bhandari, Subhash Belekur, Anjali Suresh Bavane, and others were present.
